

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. Why don't anti-trust laws protect us from the consolidations that are threatening our democracy -- the dangers of the media being gobbled up by a few powerful players? This is one of the most important issues facing our country today, and the FCC should be more strongly serving the public's interest! Sincerely, Katie Gross